The latest rules from the government - in England

On July 19th all Covid legal restrictions in England ended. But the government says people should proceed with 'extreme caution'. On 14th September the PM announced that 12 to 15 year-olds will get single vaccinations, and a booster jabs are now being offered to over-40s as supplies allow. ('Plan A'). If the NHS is in danger of being overwhelmed, 'Plan B' would be the reintroduction of some measures, as yet unspecified.

Self isolation: Since 16th August, people who've had both their jabs will no longer have to self-isolate after close contact with someone who tests positive. If contacted, you are advised to take a PCR test as soon as possible. As long as that is negative, you won't need to take any further action. If positive you must self-isolate for 10 days.

Holidays abroad: At present, fully vaccinated people returning to England from other countries are no longer required to self-isolate. Anyone who's fully vaccinated will no longer have to take a PCR test before travelling to England. They will still have to take a test two days after arrival; this can be a lateral flow test from an approved list of providers. <https://www.bbc.co.uk/news/uk-59025413>
